Fashioned By Faith

Synopsis

Everyone knows that we live in a "skin-is-in" society, heavily driven by media and immodesty. So how does a young Christian woman reconcile a fashionable wardrobe with maintaining her integrity? Written by international professional model Rachel Lee Carter, Fashioned by Faith offers a cutting-edge approach to the concept of beauty with a Biblical foundation that will attract moms and daughters alike. Readers will love hearing about Carter's exciting story as she leads them on an engaging study that touches on a huge felt need for young women: real beauty has nothing to do with looks. Offering three valuable perspectives—teen boys, a professional model, and God's Word—Carter explains her standards of modesty in a way that will make readers acquire a specific understanding of the author's wardrobe choices and the impact those choices can make on others. Readers will also learn to season their self-image with daily quiet time with God. A tour of Scripture will reveal the value of heart issues like modesty and why they're important to God. Never compromising her sense of style or her faith, every young lady can discover what it means to be Fashioned by Faith. Moms and girls will love this book!

Rachel Lee Carter is a professional international model of more than 20 years as well as a Bible Institute graduate. She is the President of Modeling Christ, a faith-based organization that teaches the importance of modesty in a skin-is-in society. --This text refers to an alternate Paperback edition.

Level-headed commentary on modesty. Excellent for anyone who is concerned about not sending the wrong signals by the way she dresses but doesn't want to succumb to wearing ugly sack-like clothes either!

I have finally found a book about fashion that I find worthwhile for my grown-up granddaughters. Most current fashion is not only degrading to women, but is in no way artistically impressive. This book shows that one can be beautifully dressed, fashionable, and morally acceptable.

This book answers a lot of questions as to why women and girls need to dress modestly; and what that looks like. I would recommend this book for all women, young and old.

Great book for teens, or adults who dress like teens. Wonderful devotional for groups, schools, youth groups, the author is authentic and for today's world

Hard for young ladies to know what modesty is or is not. Good guidelines...did not always agree but at least there are guidelines.

It is so good to have a fashionable alternative to the onslaught of immodest fashion you find in our stores.

Extremely boring. BookSeller was fine. Don't buy the book. She talks about her self too much. Just a waste of my money.

Fashioned by Faith ...by Rachel Lee Carter If you have a teenage daughter, YOU need two copies of this book! It's that good. I requested this book from Booksneeze.com, thinking it would help me with relating to issues of modesty with girls in our church youth group. After reading it, I am passing it along to my sister-in-law and her daughter. Rachel Carter has opened herself up to the reader and made herself vulnerable. Vulnerability is a character trait that isn't usually considered positive, but I applaud her for putting herself out there. I tend to underline in books that I am reading and knew I was in for a good read when page 2 had marks on it! Not only does she address the issue of modesty, she attacks it. Carter acknowledges that it can be a struggle to dress modestly and stay with the trends. Then she goes on to discuss the struggle that a woman's choice to dress without modesty causes for the male's who are striving to remain godly. A phrase I will carry with me from here forward is "If you've got it, protect it." - an adaptation of the saying "If you've got it, flaunt it." Lastly, this book includes a 45 day Bible Study that helps women and girls be Fashioned by Faith..I received this book from Thomas Nelson Publishing in exchange for an honest review. I receive no compensation and the opinions expressed are my own.
